USPA NEWS - Honing talent in drawing, essay writing and craftsmanship

Call to parents by teachers to recognize and encourage the talent of their children

Saaka Pavani, who is studying 10th standard in Appanapalli Zilla Praja Parishad High School of Mamidikuduru Mandal, has been good at studies and sports. Besides, she is showcasing her talent in extra-curricular activities - periodical quizzes, drawing, essay writing and handicraft skills, for which she is receiving appreciation and encouragement from her teachers.

On this occasion, Head Master Sai Baba said that they recognize the talent of the students and encourage them in every way. Parents are also being made aware to help their children. He appreciated the talent of the students and the hard work of the teachers.

Social teacher Prasad said that Saaka Pavani's team stood first and won the prize in the quiz competitions held periodically. The teams of Shruti and Iswari stood in the second and third positions. He elaborated that Pavani stood first in the essay and painting competitions organized during the police week celebrations last month. He said that Pavani's team won the first match of the interstate under-15 cricket competition held recently in Vizianagaram. Prasad urged the parents to recognize the talent of their children and help them to climb higher positions in the future by sending them for coaching. The students thanked all the teachers for recognizing their talent and encouraging them in every way.
